How to Draw a Valentine's Heart

1) First get a good sharp pencil and eraser. Now let's make a square with four(4) equal length sides. Use light equal strokes to get the even shape of the square.

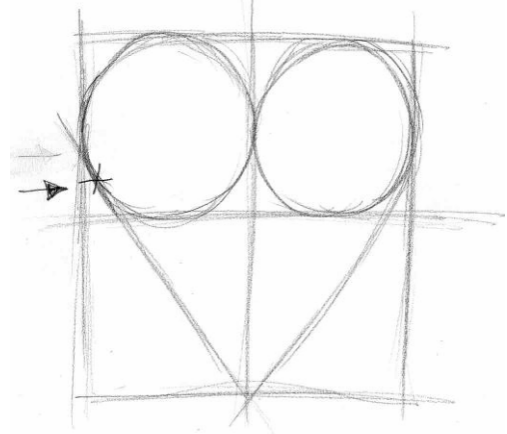

2) Next divide the box into four(4) equal parts by sketching out division lines.

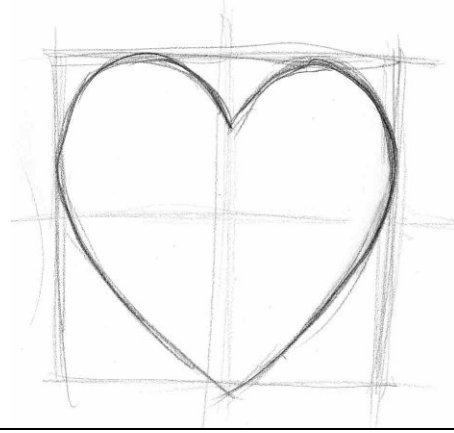

3) Now in the two upper top boxes, lightly sketch out two(2) circles making sure that each outer edge of the circle touches a side of the box.

4) Next draw a line from one side to the bottom of the box in the middle. Start near a point on the circle which is called the target point near the side box. Take this line to the bottom line center. And repeat it for the other side.

5) Last, rework these lines to get the desired heart you want by adding a slight curve to the bottom line and working it with light sketching, you get a heart.

6) Finally, just erase those unwanted lines, and there you have it, your Valentine's Heart.
